

Committee Opinion
December 30, 1985

LEGAL ETHICS OPINION 748

LEGAL FEES – INTEREST ON ESCROW ACCOUNTS.

It is not improper for an attorney, with his client's consent, to place his client's funds in an interest bearing account and to apply interest earned on that account to the attorney's fees. The attorney must, of course, comply with DR:9-102(D) as to record keeping, accounting, clerical and administrative procedures and the payment of fees, costs or expenses incident thereto. [ DR:9-102(D) and (E)]

Committee Opinion
December 30, 1985