

Virginia State Bar Publications

The Bar publishes resources on law-related issues for Virginians and Virginia lawyers on its website at www.vsb.org. You may order printed copies of resources where available. Please note that some are available in bulk quantities and others are available individually.

The publications of the Virginia State Bar contain information and resources that pertain to Virginia laws. These resources are not a substitute for hiring an attorney, but they provide basic legal information about the topics they cover. Note that changes may occur in any of these areas of the law at any time.

Unless otherwise noted, these materials are not copyrighted and may be printed, photocopied, and distributed as needed. All public information materials may be viewed and downloaded at no charge from the Virginia State Bar website.

Please select the publication(s) and quantity below to place your order for those publications available in print. Members of the public may receive one copy of each per person. If distributing on behalf of a law firm or organization, publications can be requested in a quantity of up to 100 if supply is available. People with an out-of-state address may order in quantities of one only.
