

Committee Opinion
June 12, 1973

LEGAL ETHICS OPINION 226

HOUSE COUNSEL – DUAL PRACTICE.

It is not improper for a lawyer employed full-time as counsel to an insurance company to maintain a separate office for his private practice and to furnish legal services to individual employees of the company at the request of said individuals, for which said individuals would pay. [See II: DR:2-103(A), (B), (C) and (D).]

Committee Opinion
June 12, 1973