

Committee Opinion
December 28, 1973

LEGAL ETHICS OPINION 231

FIRM REPRESENTING COMPETING
BANKS – CONFLICT IN INTERESTS.

It is not improper for members of the same law firm to act as counsel for two competing banks, assuming, of course, that there is no actual legal conflict between the banks and so long as both banks have consented to such multiple representation after full disclosure. [See II: DR:5-105.]

Committee Opinion
December 28, 1973