LEGAL ETHICS OPINION 355

DIVORCE – CONFLICT OF INTERESTS.

It would not be ethically permissible for an attorney to continue representing the ex-husband of wife in child custody proceedings where he acted as attorney for wife's current husband in matters relating to marital problems which could aid the ex-husband in his child custody proceedings, unless attorney obtains the express consent of wife's current husband. [See II: DR:5-105(D).]
