

Committee Opinion
July 15, 1980

LEGAL ETHICS OPINION 378

CONFIDENTIALITY – CLIENT’S WILL – CONFLICT.

It would be ethically impermissible, under DR:4-101(B), for an attorney to reveal either the contents of, or the existence of, a client's will to anyone outside the confidential sphere of the attorney-client relationship, including another client whose interest may be affected by that will.

Committee Opinion
July 15, 1980